Hard Times Dance Promises to Prove Hilarious Affair

Expect 2,000 to Attend Party Sponsored by Lions Club Saturday

It will be worth the price of admission—or so the Lions themselves maintain—just to see the Antioch Lions club members in costume at the "Hard Times" party and dance to be sponsored by the club Saturday evening in the Channel Lake pavilion.

While the wearing of costumes will be optional, there will be prizes for the best outfits and it is believed that many are planning to compete for them.

A record crowd is expected at the dance. Plans are being made to accommodate at least two thousand, and to assure all who attend of having a good time.

Refreshments, Entertainment
There will be dancing, miscellaneous entertainment, games, refreshments (to be served in cabaret style) and other features.

Dancing will start at 9 o'clock with music by Howard Gaston's eight-piece orchestra, which will also be in costume, and Dolores Gerken, soloist.

License Is Issued for Wrong County-- But Love Triumphs!

Marie Rose Samson, Chicago, and Arley Marvin Brown, Cross Lake, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon—after a procession of five automobiles made the journey to the Cook county line, for the marriage license issued to them in Chicago did not, alas, cover a wedding in Lake county.

The Rev. W. C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, had arrived at Cross Lake, where the bridegroom is employed on the former Martin estate, for the ceremony when it was discovered that the wedding would have to take place in Cook county.

Accordingly, the bridal party started for the county line.

The little procession of cars had hardly gotten underway when it was halted. The bridegroom had to go back and get some more gasoline in his automobile.

After a brief halt, the cars started again and were approaching the county line when there was another stop. This time a tire on the bridegroom's car had come off the rim.

The bridal couple journeyed the rest of the way to the county line in the pastor's automobile.

When the party reached an attractive spot over the line in Cook county, the procession halted, the wedding ceremony was read in an outdoor setting that made up in beauty what it lacked in formality. Then the party returned to the bridegroom's car, the wheel was fixed, the return to Cross Lake was made without incident, and the wedding festivities had their merriest considerably enhanced by anecdotes of the eventful trip.

This was the second bridal party in Rev. Henslee's experience which has had a license issued for a ceremony in another county from that in which the wedding had been planned to be held.

On the previous occasion, several years ago, the case was reversed. A license had been secured in Waukegan in Lake county—and the ceremony had been planned for Chicago in Cook county. On that occasion, Rev. Henslee and the bridal party made the journey from Chicago to Lake county in order to perform the ceremony in conformity with the license.

Garfield Leaf to Fill Unexpired Coroner Term

Garfield R. Leaf has been announced as Lake county coroner to fill the unexpired term of Dr. John L. Taylor of Libertyville, who died of a heart attack May 6. Leaf, who has served as assistant county treasurer, and also for a term as treasurer, for many years past, is a candidate for the coroner office on the Lake county Republican ticket.

While cranking a tractor at his home on Pollock's road at the south end of Huntley lake Friday morning, Lloyd Miller suffered a fracture of one of the bones in his right arm.

News of the Boys in Service

These engineers can do anything—and they are generally expected to, Pvt. Edward Walter Paske, 26, a member of the engineers division, discovered somewhere in England. It seemed that the discovery was made that there was a shortage of beds for the American troops on the European continent, and the task of constructing them was given to—you've guessed it. With hammers and a set of carpenter tools, the men of Paske's outfit set about converting packing cases and crates obtained from nearby depots into double decker bunks.

A field generator provided the power for a rip saw and a gasoline driven saw was set up. Twenty-seven hours later the first bed rolled off the army's improvised assembly line. The unit was set up to operate two shifts per day, seven days a week, with an approximate total of 350 beds to show for its labors.

Pvt. Paske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paske, Grand avenue, Lake Villa, was employed by the Public Service company in Waukegan before entering the service. He attended Grass Lake Grade school and Antioch Township High school.

A "green leatherneck," Pvt. James L. Armstrong, keeps up his interest in bowling from San Diego, Calif.

"Received the first issue of the Antioch News since I've been in the Marines and was very glad to get it, as I was curious as to how things were going around the old home town, especially in the bowling alley."

I suppose everything is pretty well finished up there. The issue of the News told how the Major league came out. I see my team finished fourth and that I won third money for series.

"I am sending my address, hoping you might print it in your Service-men's column in the Antioch News. So I may hear from my Antioch friends, as I graduated from Antioch High in 1937," writes Willis Griffin, MM 2/c, SRU, Plat. 64, Area B-10, Camp Peary, Va. "I know I used to enjoy seeing the column and following the adventures of friends when I was able to see that paper."

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, Lake Villa, have received word from their son, 1st Lt. Wm. M. Walker O-674877 that his new address will be 644th Bb. Sqd., 410 Bb. Gp., APO 140, care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Recreation Fete At H. S. Voted "Huge Success"

Voted "a huge success" in every respect was the dance and card party held in the Antioch Township High School auditorium Saturday evening for the benefit of the Antioch Summer Recreation fund.

More than 100 children, in addition to the adults present, enjoyed buncos and games in a party of their own, held in the library.

Dancing was enjoyed in the auditorium and card playing in the cafeteria, with both modern and old time music.

A floor show arranged by Mrs. Norma Knapp was presented by a group of Antioch Grade school children and a girls' quartet known as the "CanCoettes," from Waukegan was featured.

At 12 o'clock a light luncheon was served.

Heading the general committee were Henry Rentner, Richard Whitacre and H. E. Cardiff. Mrs. Clayton Bartlett was in charge of prizes and donations; Miss Geraldine Giddings of tickets; Mrs. Henry Rentner of refreshments and Whitacre of cards.

Many Contribute to Success
Large groups of additional committee workers and volunteer workers helped to make the affair an outstanding success.

Eleanor Forster, who was in charge of the summer recreation program for the children last year, will return here this summer to supervise the activities.

Many local organizations have donated toward the fund to make the recreation program possible.

Expect Fine Response to Poppy Sale May 27

The biggest poppy sale in the history of the American Legion Auxiliary is predicted by Mrs. C. L. Heath, president of the local unit, who said yesterday she would not be surprised if more than double the usual number were sold.

Poppy Day will be observed on Saturday, May 27.

As few people know what the arrangements are for making these flowers, Mrs. Heath explained that the materials are furnished free to the veterans by the American Legion Auxiliary. Volunteer workers teach the disabled men to make the poppies. The entire program, from the supplying of the poppy materials, to the distribution of the finished flowers to the American public, is under the management of the auxiliary.

"The veterans and their dependents are the ones who benefit from our poppy sale," she said, "not only from the money that results from selling poppies, but also from having something tangible to do instead of having to rest, read or talk. These men in the government hospitals are delighted to keep their fingers busy and their minds occupied with the intricacies of fashioning the poppies. Needy wives and children also reap benefits from the sale of the flowers."

"We have been selling these Memorial Day flowers for twenty-four years and each year the poppy becomes more closely identified with the American Legion Auxiliary and with our disabled men. We hope the service will continue indefinitely."

Imperialism, Here We Come

Editors of the United States since no words in commenting on the program promoted through the Federal government's Petroleum Reserves Corporation to launch the government in the oil business by building a pipeline 1200 miles across Saudi Arabia. Apparently Congress didn't even know about the deal until it was announced.

As the New York Herald Tribune says: "Even if one accepts the argument that we are approaching the end of our own oil sources, does it necessarily follow that the most desirable field of exploitation is the Near East?" Granting that we must have a foreign oil policy, the Tribune continues, "most persons . . . will probably . . . agree that there is no more reason why formulation of that policy should be delegated to the Petroleum Reserves Corporation or the Secretary of the Navy, than there is for delegating to General Eisenhower the responsibility for working out a postwar political policy for France."

The Lafayette, Ind., Journal says: "Why should the Administration insist on building a pipeline on distant foreign soil at public expense? The estimated cost, $165,000,000, would put the government very much in the oil business, and American companies rightly protest. They are . . . able to build their own pipelines and other facilities. If the Administration is bent on engaging in foreign enterprises, real trouble lies ahead."

Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State under President Woodrow Wilson, in a statement in the Washington, D. C., News, says: "This proposed government adventure is the most imperialistic ever undertaken by the United States. If such policies are pursued in oil and other fields, our country appears committed definitely to future wars in bewildering places and to constant maintenance of American armed forces all over the world."

In order to establish a foreign oil policy, it is not necessary for our government to go into the oil business in foreign countries. Our international oil policy should be determined by Congress, and not by Executive order or secret deals.

The Land of Miracles

If Kit Carson and his colleagues of the wilderness could look upon the nation they explored not so many years ago, they would think indeed that many miracles had come to pass in America. They would see miracles where we of today see nothing.

In Kit Carson's day, distance was a mountainous obstacle to be traversed painfully on foot. The journey sometimes took months. Now, airliners and express trains have made the mountain into a molehill. When a housewife in the Middle West wants a dish of fresh strawberries or a crab cocktail or fish for dinner, she has but to go to the nearest grocery store. If Kit Carson wanted them, he had to walk a few thousand miles to Maine or California.

The fact that nearly 8,000 carloads of fruit and vegetables were shipped by express to all parts of the country during 1943, is no miracle to contemporary consumers. But to the pioneers of a hundred years ago who were acquainted with nothing more speedy than a horse, the spectacle of a modern refrigerated express car loaded with delicacies rolling at sixty miles an hour across deserts and mountains, would have been overwhelming—the work of gods from another world.

The miracle of refrigerated express is not a creation of super men, but merely the work of the American business man. It is only one of thousands of miracles that make the United States a good place to live. During the next hundred years, thousands more such miracles will be created by the same kind of men—providing this country remains a land in which men are free to create miracles.

The New Order?

"The percentage of our adult population on the Federal payroll is the greatest in history. Notwithstanding the widespread benefits resulting from free enterprise, there are now persons, some in high government positions, clamoring for a new order; but they refrain from stating exactly what this new order is to be. Their acts, however, speak louder than words. Their acts show that as a substitute for free enterprise, they propose to establish a plan, directed and controlled by government officials."—John D. Miller, Susquehanna, Pa., President Emeritus of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

WARTIME IDEAS FOR DAIRYMEN

for faster, better cooling

In peace or wartime, don't gamble on milk protection. Chances of milk rejection must be cut to a minimum if all the milk produced is to be marketed. One of the easiest ways to keep bacteria count down—to do a quicker, more thorough job of cooling—is to use an automatic milk stirrer like this laboratory and field tested homemade model. Spend a few hours constructing this one from odds and ends lying around your place and you will have a profitable time, work, and milk-saver.

Salvaged parts from an old tool grinder, a quarter-horse motor, and some 1/2" iron pipe went into this practical, homemade stirrer (pictured above) used on the Sunset Ridge Farm, Bourbonnais. Stirrers patterned after this one are being used with much success on many Northern Illinois farms.

BILL OF MATERIALS

- A — 1/4-HP motor
- A1 — 1" x 8" lumber motor base hung from ceiling or wall bracket.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Bahai Dedication to Be of Interest Here

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Matthisen of Bristol, Wis., are this week attending the National Bahai convention, at Wilmette, Ill. Mrs. Matthisen is one of Wisconsin's elected delegates. The convention dates are May 19 to 25 inclusive.

The year of 1944 in the Bahai world is a year of triple celebrations. The following meetings will be devoted to celebrating these events and will be open to the public:

Friday evening, May 19, at 8:15, the completion of the exterior ornamentation of the world famous Bahai House of Worship will be celebrated. Earl H. Reed, prominent architect will be the guest speaker and will give an appreciation of the Architecture and Structure of the Temple. Bahai lecturers will speak on the Founding of the Temple and its Spiritual Significance. Every evening during May the temple is to be flood-lighted and already it is attracting visitors from all over who stand drinking in its beauty with wonder and awe.

The evening of May 22, the 100 anniversary of the founding of the Faith will be celebrated from 8 to 9:30. The guest speaker on that evening will be Harry Overstreet and his subject, "Preparation for Peace." The Bahai speakers will include Dorothy Baker and Horace Holley, who are both well known to Antioch residents.

The third in this trinity of events will climax the seven-day celebration with a banquet in the Stevens Hotel, at which time the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the Bahai faith in the Western Hemisphere will be celebrated. The guest speaker at this banquet will be Dr. R. F. Piper of the department of Philosophy of the Syracuse University, who in 1932-1933 made a seventeen month trip around the world to study living religions at their sources.

Other meetings open to the public will be held May 21 at 3:30 p. m., and the subject "The Bahai World Faith"; May 23, at 8:00 p. m. the subject "North America the Citadel of Universal Peace."

Speakers on these occasions include Kenneth Christian, Professor of English, Cornell University; Helen Bishop, internationally known lecturer and twice delegate to the World Congress of Faiths in London; Marzieh Gail, who was born in Tiflis, Iran, now an American citizen and well known as an author, platform and radio lecturer; Philip Green, of the Department of Agriculture, Pan-American Division, Washington, D. C., and well known author of historical books on inter-American Unity; and Senor Octavio Illescas, native of Lima, Peru.

Preparations for the Centenary celebrations were begun by the American Bahai under the direction of Shoghi Effendi, present guardian of the Faith, who resides at the International headquarters in Haifa, Palestine, in 1937, with three collective tasks of immense magnitude: completion of the exterior ornamentation of the House of Worship, establishment of the Faith in every state and province of North America, and raising up a group of believers in all the republics of Central and South America. Hundreds of pioneer teachers left their homes to settle in other parts of North and South America in response to this summons, and more than a million dollars have been voluntarily contributed for the teaching and building funds. By March 28, 1944, the last of the three tasks was completed, thus creating for the centenary a representation of Bahai's in every political division of the western hemisphere.

MILLBURN

Rural Life Sunday will be observed at the regular church hour at Millburn next Sunday.

Guests at the Messersmith home last Saturday evening for dinner were: Miss Barbara Knight, Miss Ruth Sprague, Miss Mary Smucker, Don Winstrom, and Yoshio Fukayama, all of the Chicago Theological Seminary. Mr. and Mrs. Messersmith took these young people to Grayslake where they conducted a program of games and singing for young people from Millburn, Mundelein, Waukegan and Grayslake. Eighteen young people from Millburn attended the party.

The Millburn church was the scene of a very impressive Mother's Day service last Sunday morning when mothers of boys and girls in the service were guests of honor. A large "V" constructed by Frank Hauser and containing 43 ten-inch candles, was placed in front of the altar and raised cross. Twenty-two mothers, grandmothers, and wives assisted in a beautiful candle lighting service. Miss Emily Bracken, whose brother died in England last fall, and Miss Norma Welch were light bearers. From the lights on the altar they secured light for their tapers which they handed in turn to the mothers for lighting the candles. Mothers and members of the congregation joined in solemn dedication of lives on the home front in the effort to keep alive the light of Faith, Hope and Love. Soft music from the organ, played by Mrs. E. A. Martin, added greatly to the beauty of the candle lighting service, as did also the special Mother's Day number by the choir at the beginning and the solo by Mrs. George White at the close of the program. Clayton Engh was the only one of our Boys in Service who was present.

Miss Jean Bonner of Winnetka spent the week-end at the Gordon Bonner home.

"Never trust any bull." This and more is contained in the Department of Agriculture's weighty document, "Advice for Women and Girls Doing Farm Work." The other pearls of wisdom run like this:

"When you are given a job that requires tools, find out how to use them properly."

There's lots more.

The first new official Illinois state highway map to be issued in two years is now being distributed.

In addition to the customary statewide map, it carries supplementary maps of the twelve largest cities of the state.

Few changes in route numbers have been made since the 1942 map was printed. The new map does not designate locks or dams on waterways, police radio stations, arsenals, airports or military camps and reservations. Copies of this 1944 map may be obtained by writing the state division of highways, Centennial building, Springfield.

there are couple of GI's down in Calif. who can boast that they are on close terms with their commanding officer, but would rather forget about the whole thing.

The men, newly transferred to the camp, stayed over for a dance at a neighboring city before reporting for duty. Early Sunday morning they rang the doorbell of a home a few miles from the camp and told the drowsy pajama clad man who came to the door that they were lost.

"Come in and have a cup of coffee while I get dressed," the man cordially invited, offering to give them a ride to the camp. The GI's eagerly accepted and made themselves at home in the breakfast nook.

Their host soon appeared clad in uniform—wearing the silver eagles of a colonel. While the GI's choked on their coffee, he introduced himself—Col. Roy S. Gibson, commanding officer of Camp McQuaide.

Jeeps roll down "Via Appia" (the Appian Way) in Italy, and American soldiers write home to former teachers quoting the sonnet—

"I never dreamed Miss T., back in those days

When you tried to get Latin through my dome,

That some time, far from school's familiar ways,

I would be marching on the road to Rome.

"All Gaul's divided into three parts," and I

Would wonder, 'What's the difference anyway?'

Those ancient wars to me seemed mighty dry;

'That Caesar was a funny dope,' I'd say,

But now I think he was a real smart guy,

And here I'm walking where his legions did

And dodging death beneath the Italian sky!

It seems so long since I was just a kid

Translating Caesar. You couldn't know, Miss T.,

How much like heaven those days now seem to me."

HELL DIVING'S HIS JOB ..LENDING IS YOURS!

WITH guns blazing and a prayer in his stout heart, this American fighter is hell-bent on destruction of our enemies. HE is not thinking of how little or how much he's doing to help win the war. For him, the chips are down; but his fighting spirit is as high as the heavens from which his plane is diving.

In cramped foxholes and disease-infested jungles, on sun-scorched beachheads—under and over the seven seas—other Americans are matching his courage. And their name is legion. They KNOW that war is a bloody business; that their lives, as well as yours, are at stake.

Is it asking too much of you to back these men up by buying more, and still more, War Bonds? There can be but one answer. You'll find it in your own heart.

And remember, too, as you dig deeper than ever before into your pocketbook or cash surplus, that the Fifth War Loan MUST raise 16 billion dollars. It is the greatest financing drive the world has ever known... to back up the greatest invasion drive the world has ever known.

Back the Attack!—BUY MORE THAN BEFORE!

And Here Are 5 MORE Reasons for Buying EXTRA Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.
